90th Midwinter Meeting

The Chicago Dental Society may well be proud of its recent Midwinter Meeting. From all angles, it broke records and can go down in history as our greatest peacetime convention. Always apprehensive about Chicago weather, the terrific snowstorms and cold preceding the meeting caused many an anxious moment, not only for the out-of-town visitors but also for those in Chicago. Mother Nature was very kind with beautiful sunny days and nice crisp nights. Held off in her fury by the prayers of the officers of the Chicago Dental Society, she finally let loose with one of our worst blizzards of the year not more than five hours after the convention closed on Wednesday night. The beautiful weather was probably partially responsible for the more than 8,000 registrants on Sunday alone, the first day of the meeting. After our experiences last year of being unable to easily handle the Sunday registration, this year additional help was obtained and the South Williford Room was used as well as the Normandie Lounge for this purpose.

THE ATTENDANCE

A grand total of 14,384 persons registered, the largest peacetime attendance, and the second largest ever attained by the Chicago Dental Society. This showed an increase of approximately 500 persons over last year. Out of a total of 6,817 dentists, 2,708 were from the Chicago area and 4,109 were A.D.A. visitors. The 7,567 others break down as follows: 30 physicians, 130 nurses, 191 hygienists, 962 assistants, 843 students, 647 laboratory personnel, 1,894 exhibitors, 359 guests and 2,511 family guests. Comparison with previous years shows an over-all equal increase in attendance of each group and the percentage of each group of the grand total remains about the same.

THE PROGRAM

Fortunate indeed were we to have Peter A. Wlodkowski as the General Chairman of the 90th meeting. Affectionately known as "Pete" to one and all, his quiet and unassuming attitude, coupled with his careful attention to even the smallest detail, made for a smooth running affair. He and President Kleiman made an excellent combination and should be congratulated, not only for their many hours of time and devoted effort but also for the caliber of men and women selected to head and work on the various committees. Foremost in this category is Walter E. Dundon as chairman of the Program Committee and Adolph F. Stark as vice-chairman. Walt Dundon worked for over a year and a half to put the program in shape. Coupled with his position as chairman of the Laboratory-Trade Relations Committee of the

A.D.A., we wonder how he found time for everything, but find time he did, and the superior program was the result of his progressive planning. Many felt that this was the best program ever presented by the Chicago Dental Society.

The Essay Division was ably directed by Joseph Restarski as chairman and Henry Mathews as his vice-chairman. A total of forty-seven essays were presented, two of them being symposiums. The first of these was on the problem of patient grievances, presented from the viewpoint of the patient, the individual dentist and the dental society by Jay Eshleman, Donald Miller and Lloyd Dodd. The second symposium dealt with smoke, tars, and their relation to cancer by Ernest Wynder, George Moore and Hamilton Robinson. All essays were very well attended with the usual complaints of late-comers when no seats were available. It would be hard to pick out any one person or essay as being the outstanding one, for they were all top-notch, adding up to probably the most rounded of all essay programs.

The Limited Attendance Clinics this year were under the capable direction of Frank Amatore as chairman and James O'Donoghue as vice-chairman, 136 separate clinics were presented with a total attendance of 3,593. Seldom do we find a more conscientious person than Frank Amatore and the results he obtained with the limited attendance clinics are in proportion to his energy. This job, coupled with the terrific programs he has whipped up as chairman of the Program Committee of the North Side branch of the Chicago Dental Society, deserve our praise and thanks. Half of the clinics were sold out before the convention started, and the balance went like the proverbial hot-cakes.

The general clinics were presented in the Grand Ballroom under the able guidance of Gerson Gould as chairman and Edmund Werre as his vice-chairman. 100 clinics were given, covering practically every conceivable phase of dentistry. Since this was by far the largest number of table clinics, we were forced to use not only the ballroom but the foyer as well.

The usual tremendous crowd was present and the usual gripes and groans were heard; not enough time to visit all the tables; too many people and the room was too hot and stuffy. To the clinicians however, it was a long afternoon and they almost froze from the air-conditioning before the session began. All in all, the clinics were a tremendous success and continue to be one of the highlights of our meeting. To complement the table clinics, a series of projected clinics were given on Wednesday afternoon, also under the direction of capable Gerson Gould. An innovation to the Midwinter Meeting, the projected clinics offer quick essays by means of slide presentations, and from their wholehearted acceptance by the audience will probably be amplified and continued. Another addition this year was an excellent group demonstration by the Ak-Sar-Ben inlay study club with Frank Carman as director.

The Midwinter Meeting has many divisions and committees but limited space makes it impossible to delve into their duties as fully as they deserve; however, mention should be given to the most important—to Joseph Lebow as chairman of the Health and Educational Exhibits and Edward Kritzke as his vice-chairman; to Ray Van Dam as chairman of the Motion Picture Division and Howard Harvey as his vice-chairman; to Joseph Porto as chairman of the Scientific Exhibits Division and William Osmanski as his vice-chairman; to Morris Schneider of exhibit registration as chairman and William Shippee as vice-chairman and to James Lynch and Willard Johnson as chairman and vice-chairman of the Publicity Committee. To mention everyone connected with the Midwinter Meeting would be a tremendous task, but not nearly as big as the job they have done. Dentistry should be the wonderful profession it is, having individuals like we have to put on a convention such as has just been presented. To each and everyone having a hand in this success, the officers and directors of the Chicago Dental Society wish to offer their thanks and appreciation for a job well done.

GENERAL SESSIONS

The First General Session of the convention was held in the Grand Ballroom on Monday evening, February 7th. The presiding officer was Peter Wlodkowski, general chairman of the Midwinter Meeting. After the invocation by Rabbi Ahron Opher of the South Shore Temple, President Samuel Kleiman presented the greetings of the Chicago Dental Society and in effect said that all present would benefit and enjoy the Midwinter Meeting to the utmost. He then presented a plaque to the winner of the prize essay contest, Frank J. Orland, who accepted it on behalf of the Zoller Clinic caries experimental group. We were then honored by an address by Daniel Lynch, President of the American Dental Association, who had great praise for the Chicago Dental Society for the work done in the year-round dental health education program and the fight to have the Chicago water fluoridated. He called on all dentists to take a more active part in the affairs of our nation, our religion and our communities. The main speaker of the evening was Senator William Fife Knowland from the state of California, Minority Leader of the United States Senate and one of the top key men in the political affairs of America. A big man, big in stature and intelligence, his very appearance breeds confidence and trust and instills the thought that thanks be to God we have men like him around to protect our interests. Touching lightly on socialized medicine, he stated that the free enterprise system was and always will be best, and for that reason he was opposed to socialized medicine and dentistry. And in the same vein, he held that he was also a believer in state's rights as the best check on the national government. Needless to say, both points were heavily applauded by the audience. Entering into his specialty, the Far East, Senator Knowland commented on the presence of the 7th Fleet to help evacuate the small island garrisons and to strengthen Formosa. We are not asking for trouble, he said, but are perfectly capable of taking care of ourselves if trouble arises and will fire back only if fired upon. Never again will the Commies be able to use the Yalu River as a sanctuary. Appeasement, said Senator Knowland, is only defeat on the installment plan and any show of weakness now on our part will only eventually deliver all of Asia into Communist hands. One of the worst things we could do, said the Senator, would be to allow Communist China to join the United Nations. The Grand Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton was filled to capacity and when the Senator had finished speaking, the ovation received must have warmed the cockles of his heart. He deserved the applause and deserves our support. Let's hope our government gets more men like him.

The Second General Session was the occasion of the reading of the prize essay. It was held Tuesday morning, February 8th, with the program chairman Walter Dundon presiding. The essay was titled "Experimental Caries in Germfree Rats Inoculated with Enterococci" by Frank Orland, J. Roy Blayney and R. Wendell Harrison of the Zoller Clinic of the University of Chicago. The $500 award was then presented by Samuel R. Kleiman, President of the Chicago Dental Society. These prize essay contests have stimulated interest in research, raised the level of professional achievement and helped humanity. The Society should justly feel proud of fostering the contest and should continue to do so in the future.

SOCIAL

It is said that people forget their conventions at conventions and the 90th Midwinter Meeting is no exception. With cocktail parties, luncheons, banquets and other get-togethers, it is hard to envision anyone not having a good time. The two big social events of the meeting however were sponsored by the Chicago Dental Society, the first being the tremendously successful ladies' luncheon and fashion show held in the Boulevard Room Tuesday at noon. A complete sellout before the affair began, many women had to be turned away because of lack of accommodations. The Ladies' Entertainment Committee did a marvelous job and were fortunate to have Mrs. Sidney H. Berg as chairman with the help of Mrs. Walter E. Dundon, Mrs. Alfred D. Kamin and Mrs. Robert J. Pollock. The girls enjoyed a delicious luncheon to the tunes of a string ensemble, were entertained by some Hawaiian musicians and hula dancers and entered into the spirit of things by slinging a few hips themselves in an audience participation show. Twenty prizes of five-dollar certificates were drawn as door prizes. Marshall Field and Co. presented the fashion show of the very latest styles, designs and materials, employing the loveliest of models and going to great expense. The ladies' luncheon and fashion show was three hours of pure enjoyment, one of the real highlights of the meeting.

The most important social event of the convention was the dinner dance and all-star show held in the Grand Ballroom on Wednesday evening, February 9th. Carl Madda as chairman of the Entertainment Committee and Joseph Voita as his vice-chairman certainly deserve lots of credit and thanks. We have always been aware of Carl Madda's flair for entertainment and tremendous ability, but little did we realize what an evening he had in store. To begin with, cocktails were served in the foyer with strolling musicians to soothe the ragged nerves. Then everyone entered the ballroom to partake of an excellent dinner consisting of fresh fruit cocktail, cream of tomato soup, tossed salad, browned potatoes, broccoli, one-half roast chicken and ice cream cake with cherry sauce, plus olives, rolls etc. Not only does the dinner sound good but it was—tasty and well-cooked, with the hot things hot and the cold things cold. Then followed a sparkling ninety minutes of "Musical Images," a show created and produced by Lou Breese, an entirely new idea in the program entertainment field. Consisting of a sixteen-piece orchestra, solo performers and a chorus of 20, Lou has reached the ultimate in fine entertainment. With music from Bach to boogie, with choral numbers, musical and vocal solos, dancing by Maurice and Maryea, comedy by Pat McCaffrie, wonderful orchestrations, and the toe-tingling music of the "man with the banjo," Lou Breese. 660 persons actually thrilled to this musical extravaganza, all in perfect accord that it was the finest show they ever saw. Following the show, the orchestra played for dancing until 1 o'clock in the morning when everyone went home, tired but happy after spending a most enjoyable evening, a fitting climax to a wonderful Midwinter Meeting.

SUMMARY

The 90th Midwinter Meeting of the Chicago Dental Society must go down in history as our most successful convention. We had a tremendous crowd, offered more essays, limited attendance clinics and table clinics than ever before, and were rewarded by unsurpassed interest and enthusiasm on the part of the participants as well as the audience. We hit the nail on the head by having the "hottest" figure in American politics, Senator Knowland, as our main speaker. The ladies' luncheon and fashion show was terrific and a complete sellout and the big dinner dance and show surpassed even our wildest dreams. On the commercial side, dentists profess to being busy, are making good money, and look forward to another year of prosperity. The commercial exhibitors chalked up their busiest and most successful convention. Yes sir, the 90th was sure a humdinger.

In conclusion, we should give thanks to the officers and directors of the Chicago Dental Society; to the members of the different committees for their time and services; to the affiliated groups for their valuable aid; to the essayists and clinicians for sharing their knowledge with us; and to the commercial and technical exhibitors for their help. All we can say now is come back again in 1956 and attend the great Midwinter Meeting of the Chicago Dental Society.—E.J.S.

ABSTRACTS

THE INFLUENCE OF SMOKING ON THE RESPIRATORY TRACT

Many physicians may not agree that smoking causes cancer of the lung yet probably no physician would deny that it contributes to cancer of the mouth or lip. It is known that mouth cancers are found more frequently in tobacco users and it differs little whether the tobacco is smoked or chewed.

Leukoplakia, which is definitely a precancerous lesion, is caused almost entirely by the irritation of tobacco. Leukoplakia thus should be energetically treated. As there is a definite causative relationship between leukoplakia and the use of tobacco, the patient should refrain from the use of tobacco for the rest of his life. Leukoplakia can be controlled and will regress under stilbestrol 1 to 2 mg. daily, the use of brewer's yeast and the administration of liver extract every ten days. X-ray therapy is useless.

As to why cancer of the larynx has not increased in smokers as has cancer of the lung, it is pointed out that cancer of the larynx is increasing but that it is a slow growing lesion, is readily diagnosed and is extremely amenable to treatment. For these reasons, autopsy and vital statistic records would show a low incidence.

At present cancer of the lung is increasing more than any other cancer of the body and projecting the incidence from the rate today indicates that by 1970 one of every five cancer cases will be cancer of the lung.

Tar from cigarette smoke produced cancer at site of application in 44 per cent of animals tested and this cancer was identical to that found in humans in that it metastasizes and produces the death of the animal.

The most frequent lung cancer is the epidermoid type which often occurs as a result of cancer producing agents. Adenocarcinoma or glandular cancer usually results from an embryologic rest.

Cancer of the lung is diagnosed by x-ray, sputum examination or bronchoscopic examination with a tissue sample. A positive preoperative diagnosis can be made in 80 per cent of the cases. The other 20 per cent must be operated.

Routine six-month x-ray examinations should be made in all men over 40 who are heavy smokers.—By A. Oshner, M.D. N. Y. Journal of Dentistry, Oct., 1954. J.N.I.

TREATMENT OF TRAUMATIZED YOUNG TEETH

Traumatized young teeth must receive prompt adequate care to prevent such sequelae as pulp degeneration, breakdown of periapical bone, discoloration of crowns and even tooth loss.

Radiographs and pulp tests should be made early and as necessary.

The fractured young permanent incisor with dentine involvement should receive emergency care of a cover of zinc oxide eugenol followed by a celluloid crown form filled with a loose mix of silicate cement.

The permanent restoration of choice is a $\frac{3}{4}$ crown with a window. It is prepared by mesiodistal slices, removal of lingual enamel, a pinhole 3 mm deep in the cingulum and proximal grooves which parallel the lingual pinhole which must parallel the angulation of the root. A plastic pin is inserted in the pinhole and a copper-band compound impression made and the crown completed indirectly.

Where the pulp is involved a partial pulpectomy under sterile conditions, using calcium hydroxide followed by zinc phosphate cement, is indicated. Cal-

NEWS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

RHODE ISLAND COURT RULES AGAINST ADVERTISING BY DENTAL LABS

It is illegal for Rhode Island dental laboratories to advertise that they can make artificial dentures directly for the public. This in essence was the far-reaching decision handed down February 9 by Judge John E. Mullen of the state Superior Court in Providence. The plaintiff in the year-old suit, the state board of dental examiners, was granted a permanent injunction preventing the Irving Dental Lab., Inc., from (1) practicing dentistry; (2) using the word "dentists" in connection with its name, and (3) stating or implying in advertisements that it can perform dental operations. Judge Mullen called Dr. Morris Sweet, Providence and Woonsocket dentist, a "front" and an agent for the laboratory. Although Dr. Sweet took impressions and fitted the dentures made by the laboratory's technicians, Judge Mullen held that the laboratory was practicing dentistry illegally because of its newspaper advertisements and signs appealing directly for public business. Commercial laboratories may advertise, he ruled, but the advertisements must make clear that dentures and other prosthetic devices are produced only "on the prescription of a duly licensed dentist, and by impressions and casts made by a duly licensed and practicing dentist."—A.D.A. News Letter, Feb. 15, 1955.

CHICAGO'S ILLEGAL DENTIST PROBLEM

This matter of the unprofessional and illegal relationship of dentist and laboratory has been receiving special attention from our Legislative and Law Enforcement Committee for the past several months and further license revocation charges are to be filed with the State Board of Dental Examiners. The Committee already has made charges against fifteen dentists and complaints against several others are in preparation. If these illegal relationships can be broken up and if dentists can be removed from dental laboratories, then laboratories will not have this cloak of pseudo-respectability behind which to hide. The Committee is interested in learning the names of other dentists known to be associated with laboratories—either on the premises or serving as extractionists for laboratories in their own offices.

OFFICIAL CANDIDATES FOR NORTH SIDE BRANCH ELECTION

The North Side Branch Nominating Committee at its meeting on February 14, 1955, officially recommended the following list of candidates to be elected at the regular North Side Branch election meeting to be held Tuesday, April 5, 1955, at the Edgewater Beach Hotel.

Director to the Chicago Dental Society, Earl Elman; North Side Branch Director, Ruben Kadens; President, Herbert Gustavson; Vice-president, Harold Sitron; Secretary, Frank Hanagan; Treasurer, Jules Barrash; Librarian, Raymond Bro.

WEST SUBURBAN ROUND TABLE

The West Suburban Branch Round Table meeting will take place on Monday, March 7, at 12 noon promptly at the Oak Park Club. The speaker will be Dr. J. R. Blayney of the University of Chicago, on "The Use of Fluorides in the Public Water Supply." For luncheon reservation, call Dr. Edwin Black, Village 8-4800.

The regular monthly meeting of the Chicago Dental Society opened at 8:00 p.m. in the Upper Tower Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel. Motion was made and carried to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting. The minutes of the November meeting as published in the FORT-NIGHTLY REVIEW were approved.

NEWS OF THE BRANCHES

NORTHWEST SIDE

And so the exhibitor slowly packed away the last piece of equipment and sighed, "Well, we've lived through another one." And so it was with all of us on Wednesday evening. It is a tough grind, this Midwinter Meeting of ours; and as hosts we miss a lot of the glamour and good time that is so apparent to the visitor. But as we look at the meeting in retrospect, and give credit where credits are due, the picture unfolds and we know that we put on a good show. We North-westers can look back with pride at the part that our members played in the whole picture. Heading the list, Pete Wlodkowski, General Chairman of the convention, and the peak of the operating body. Committee chairmen were Gerson Gould with a new item at Midwinter Meetings, the "projected clinics," and for a first venture Gerson found himself praised to the skies. Joe Lebow had Scientific and Educational exhibits with Morry Schneider below decks in the office for the commercial exhibitors. Santina Litturi served as vice-chairman on the Reception Committee for Visiting Women Dentists. . . . But why look at the past? Our monthly meeting will deviate from the usual dental subjects. Mr. Arthur J. O'Hara, vice-president at the Northern Trust Company, will speak on "Investments." This is a subject that is always in the minds of our profession, but never seems to get a good hearing. So, if you want to know what to do with that extra bundle of cash, the date is March 8, Tuesday, with the usual refreshments at 6:30, dinner a la Stella at 7:00 p.m. with our speaker to follow the business meeting. Cas Rogalski our president, has asked me to tell those of you who can't make the dinner, that the branch will try out the idea of a late snack, buffet style. So come early, come late, but get there on March 8. And if that poetry doesn't bring down that poet from Englewood, then I miss my guess. . . . Little things picked up at the Midwinter—B. B. Pawlowski with a big smile, and a grand cheerfulness at being able to make the meeting. . . . Henry Boris with the remains of a Mexican tan, added to by a stay in New Orleans. . . . Thad Olechowski in civilian clothes, just as cheerful as ever. . . . Don Mammen tearing around a corner and hollering "I'll be right back" and never getting there. . . . Herman Wenger putting on the feed bag in Park Row with Gus Solfronk. . . . Don Mac-Namara, once of the branch, but now a practitioner in Galena, Illinois, moaning about the fact that the Northwesters don't seem to get out to visit often enuf. . . . Dan Klein with that ever ready notebook. . . . Thad Weclaw settling the bill for the lunch of the Academy of General Dentistry, and wondering why the president always gets those jobs. The Academy is growing at a great rate, making a place for itself in the national dental scene.—Ben Davidson, Branch Correspondent.

WEST SIDE

After the Midwinter Meeting, news became as scarce as a needle in a haystack. This leaves us to report only the little news we have. The West Side Branch is again proud of our own Sam Kleiman, President of the Chicago Dental Society, who with the other officers and committeemen did a commendable job at the Chicago Midwinter Meeting which attracted over 14,000. The Limited Attendance Clinics this year succeeded in surpassing all previous records. . . . Bob Bailey left for a Florida vacation immediately after the meeting. . . . On February 23, the West Indians held a powwow at the Prague Restaurant under the leadership of Chief Bob Placek. Correction—this meeting was a reunion of those in the group of vacationers who recently, under Bob Placek, enjoyed a trip in the West Indies following the A.D.A. convention in Florida. Leo and Mrs. Cahill were the representatives of the West Side. . . . Josh Vission is building an office up north in Skokie. . . . The Nominating Committee, headed by Al Sells, selected the following candidates: President, John Reilly; Vice-president, Irwin Robinson; Secretary, Irving Shae-witz; Treasurer, Andrew Kelleher; Librarian, Louis Holzman; Board of Directors of the West Side Branch—Vincent Vivirito, Harold Gillogly and Frank Kropik. . . . Your correspondent hopes that all of the West Side members enjoyed the Midwinter Meeting.—Frank J. Kropik, Branch Correspondent.

NORTH SIDE

Wasn't this a hectic Midwinter meeting! This was the first time I showed up on a Sunday and I certainly was surprised at the tremendous response of the membership. Our North Side members were right up front, taking part in program planning, limited attendance chairmen, et al. In fact, you must have seen all the yellow buttons with OASI printed on them. Some of our North Side men started that and it mushroomed; men from every state represented at the meeting signed a petition to the American Dental Association requesting a referendum vote be taken of all its members about this Old Age Survivors Insurance. Of course you know the Chicago Dental Society members voted 80% for the OASI. Earl Elman, our North Side Secretary and a little case of dynamite, has been asked by out-of-state dentists to head a national group of dentists interested in Social Security for dentists. . . . We are certainly sorry to hear about Roland Weber's brother, who passed away in Wisconsin. . . . Congratulations to the Bill Osmanskis on their wedding anniversary. Thanks, Lee Jacobi, for being a help from your end of the North Side. Herb Gustavson and John Anderson are certainly gaining reputations for teaching the latest technics in Hi-Speed Dentistry. They presented a course last January before the Kankakee Society on their technic for inlays. Now they are invited back for more of the same on March 17th. Even good operators like Rube Kadens, Jules Barrash and Paul Heck have spent time at Herb's office watching his technic. . . . The Ultrasonic Research Group here in Chicago are doing a tremendous job in attempting to provide some comprehensive information on the technic and safety of the new Cavitron dental equipment. Hal Sitron, Bill Semiloff, Rube Kadens, Carl Sudakoff, Norm Kirschner, Stan Goldberg and Jules Barrash are working with Northwestern to analyze value, safety and effectiveness of Cavitron. Although no final reports are available, reactions to date have been mixed and much more research seems to be indicated. . . . Bob Margolis has a cracked rib and has trouble laughing at patients' jokes. . . . Jim Lane is working hard for his brother George to be elected as alderman of the 49th Ward. Good luck to you both. George Lane is non-partisan candidate in the ward. . . . Our next North Side meeting will be March 1st and John Kollar will be our clinician. Needless to say, it will be a good meeting. . . . At the third telephone course, held at the Uptown Dental Forum, Fred Bazola was guest panelist and certainly did a creditable job. Major Mel Schainis visited the forum and we hear tell his General made this comment at the Midwinter Meeting: "Mel has done more to build the morale of the dental corps at his base than any other man present." . . . Hal Sitron is fast becoming a clinician in demand. Last month on TV. Now he is going to the Minnesota State meeting, by invitation, March 29th. . . . Anyone interested in learning how to ride down a snowslide on an aluminum saucer contact Warren Gerber—he is now an expert. . . . Al Mark now has assumed his military rank of Major as of Sunday, March 20th. . . . I wonder if our midwinter program committee could entice any of the various academies which meet before the big meeting to put on their programs for us. They really have some of the meat and the potatoes—not just a little of the gravy. . . . Meyer Poliak is thawing out in Palm Springs. . . . Now I would like to thank Art Duxler for doing such an excellent job when he edited the last column for me. . . . I understand a very democratic method of determining candidates for next year is being brought out for this election. I think it is much better to do it that way than back room deals for candidates, so that when the election is over, we hear a lot of grumbling and discontent from the membership about a rigged election. Then quite a few men do not renew their memberships. We need those men. How about that!—Joseph W. Gordon, Branch Correspondent.

SOUTH SUBURBAN

Our guys from South Suburban sure get around. I would venture to say that we were more than well represented among the men who worked to make our Midwinter Meeting a success. To mention a few, there were Seidel as a Limited Attendance Chairman, Lees on the committee for the big Dinner-Dance, Phillips on the committee for exhibitors' registration. Our director, Neil Kingston even took it upon himself to hang a few signs. The boys all must have done a real good job, because the general consensus of opinion was that the whole meeting ran off smooth as silk. Danny Altier was not only on the ball as a limited attendance chairman, but he came up with a few discrepancies on the part of the exhibitors and their wares. For further information on this subject, check with Dan. . . . All of us were very shocked to learn of the sudden death of the father of Pete Iagmin, and I am sure you all will join with me in extending our sympathies. A floral offering was sent to the family on behalf of South Suburban. . . . Fritz Waldschmidt came home from the meeting with a nasty virus which as of this

YEARS AHEAD . . . TODAY! TWIN ADVANCEMENTS IN DENTAL PROSTHETICS

Both denture form and color are treated with a new understanding in the COLOR-FORM concept of the design and construction of full dentures. This has as one goal the re-development of the edentulous mouth to a normal form so that esthetics, phonetics and function alike are restored, and expression in appearance and speech are completely natural.

The other goal is life-like color blending. This color treatment is cured within the denture and provides unique and amazing third-dimension fidelity to natural dentition. When these goals are achieved, as in the COLOR-FORM denture, the result is a distinctive contribution to dental prosthetics—years ahead—one that must be seen to be appreciated.

Is anything "Unbreakable"?

Actually, NO! But one of the hardest things to break is FAITH — faith in an ideal, a policy, a hero . . . yes, even faith in a product.

And that's why the dental profession for over 60 years has looked to Cook-Waite for the finest in dental products. The profession knows, from experience, that they can depend upon the research and manufacturing "know-how" of Cook-Waite to bring them products which are unsurpassed.

We appreciate this faith . . . and it's our policy — yes, our duty — to see to it that this professional faith is justified.

cific bridging as shown by x-ray may be demonstrated in four weeks, after which a permanent $\frac{3}{4}$ crown window restoration is made.

Where the incisor is knocked out the patient must come in immediately with the tooth. It is cleaned with green soap; wrapped in saline moistened gauze and imbedded in compound. The pulp is removed and the canal filled. The blood clot is curetted out, the tooth positioned in the socket and stabilized with a ribbon arch wire. Attachment occurs in 10 to 14 days.

In cases where the root is fractured, the coronal segment is immobilized until callous formation occurs. Healing will not occur if the fracture is in the gingival crevice. Here the crown portion is removed, the root canal filled and a post fitted to both the root canal and to the natural crown. The crown with the post is then cemented to the root.

writing has him laid up at home and unable to take care of his busy practice. . . . Now that most of us have spent a lot of money at the convention for instruments and equipment, we want to make sure that it is put to the best of use, so the program committee has scheduled for our March 1st meeting Dr. Jim Plants on the subject "Am I using my office time to the best advantage"? Should make interesting listening. . . . That's all for now, see you all at Chuck Cavallini's on March 1st at the usual time.—H. C. Gornstein, Branch Correspondent.

NORTH SUBURBAN

Well, the Midwinter Meeting proved something at least. While your branch correspondent was busy committeeing we were blinded when a character from down Englewood-way breezed in the door with exploding flash bulbs, steaming cigar, and listing slightly to port side (said it was his arthritis), remarked, "Whar's this yere son from No-Sububn who's been a-ritin' at me?" He promptly planted his panduriform propensities on the nearest plush, slugged down a jolt of ice water and stared around the room with all his verbs and adjectives cocked. Though mildly startled we were forced to admit this was at least a noticeable if not notable entrance. What was proved? Obviously, Waska is a man of action. Did you visit with the Pied Typer of Trying Tripe during his Limited Attendance presentation on Photography? We must admit that at least this was well presented. (Note to, "A FRIEND" not a bad one. This is not grist for your mill). . . . We managed a couple of items for this effort, for example, Harry Chronquist's accommodations at the Hilton. Harry had Mr. Hilton's private suite, simply gorgeous. Most curious convenience to Harry was an infra-red, ultra violet ray lamp combination installed in the most unlikely place you might imagine. Harry says you could get a sun burn while—shaving? . . . We bumped into F. W. Lindberg at the Delta Sig party but couldn't raise any news about him. . . . We learned that Bob Jans has been elected to membership in the Chicago Society for Oral Surgeons. Congratulations, Bob. . . . A "rumor" was about that Chet Thorsen is planning to limit his practice to periodontia . . . and we tried to get more information on the Lynch and Company production schedule. . . . Don Palmer had some interesting news which we, of course, gleaned from another source. (Secrets are hard to keep, Don). Don's lovely twenty-year-old daughter, Judy is proudly displaying a brand new SPARKLER—atta boy, Dick! . . . In locating Milt Dawson we usually look for a crowd and an argument. Imagine our surprise in colliding with this mound of man with the speculative stare and pensive attitude—just listening. 'Twas Milt. Milt, we learned later, was worried over his Limited Attendance presentation. We learned even later that Uncle Milt did a bang-up job to three sold-out sessions. . . . Herman Kelder appeared on the Dental Society TV program, February 4, and suggests that more North Suburban men should take advantage of this opportunity, and requests that anyone interested please contact him. . . . Harold Steinke seems to have had his share of problems, and might use an assist from one of you. If you'll recall, Harold was burned out of his office about two years ago, and now the landlord for his present location has demanded immediate possession which leaves Harold without an office. Anyone knowing of available space could render a real service—just get in touch. We learned too that Harold, Jr. received his wings as an "All Weather" Jet pilot, July 23, was married on July 28, and recently informed Pop, "You'll be a grandpa soon." Harold's lovely daughter is a student at Michigan State University—a real fancy figure skater we've been told. . . . Harland New was mighty busy enjoying the convention when last seen, and received considerable assistance in this effort from his friend Ted Quinn of WGN sports. . . . Seems the convention gets larger, and covers more territory every year. Latest report on registration indicated about 14,400—more displays, more clinics, more everything. Congratulations to Sam and his executive staff. . . . We didn't have much time for snooping this time so here is that promised "shorty." We'll do a little better next time.—F. S. Verink, Branch Correspondent.

ENGLEWOOD

CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS:

One can say, "It's getting better and better every year!" This one was one of the best, from the top-notch scientific exhibits on the third floor all the way up to the penthouse where the brass hats stay during convention time. How can we forget the "sample" human being exhibited by the U. S. Navy—demonstrating all types of wounds, bleeding controlled or permitted only by the deft hand of the Commander in charge? Did working your way through the fifth floor corridor during the drinking bouts of the various participating groups throw you like it did me? Maybe I'm getting old—can't seem to take it any more, so let's start in the basement and work up. Thanks to the exhibitors, we really had just about everything in the dental line. After walking about and viewing all the new equipment and innovations, our own offices began to take on a slightly moldy aspect in comparison. The scientific exhibits were excellent and really worth while. The Loyola University television set-up used in teaching was outstanding. North Carolina's ambassador, Marvin Chapin, interested us with his contact sports mouthpieces. This wouldn't be a full report without a gripe; did you try to get into a limited attendance lecture? It seems that everyone I was interested in was booked solid. Take the case of Romaine Waska's photo-lecture, you couldn't get in even if you used a shoe horn and had a box of Corona Coronas for little Woo Woo! This is a healthy sign but how about repeating the lectures for the benefit of those who couldn't get in the first time? The impressive ceremony as usual on Monday night—Chairman Wlodkowski was in good form with C.D.S. President Kleiman giving the first of the evening talks followed by A.D.A. President Lynch. Senator Knowland, the main speaker, outlined our foreign policy, which at the present time is quite exciting. If you got tired of walking, viewing the exhibits, etc., an elevator to the Tower Ballroom assured you a seat in the Visual Education Department of the convention. If your gluteal muscles tired, a quick visit to the fifth floor for refreshments was in order. . . . By the way, what happened to the Captains in the Army Dental Corps? All I saw were Majors, and all the way up to a Major General (Oscar P. Snyder, Chief of the U.S.A.D.C.). . . . Looking through the program I find that names of Englewood men are so numerous that I'm apologizing right here for the omission, it would fill a page or two of the FORTNIGHTLY REVIEW. . . . Just an idea—but wouldn't it be fitting to select a "Dentist of the Year" in the C.D.S. area and honor him with an appropriate plaque? . . . PERSONALS: Doc Sorley took off recently for a long stay in Florida. . . . Irv Oaf underwent an operation on January 29. . . . Vince Milas now (re-elected) secretary of the American Association of Endodontists. . . . The "Three Graces" (Milas, Starshak, Kalk) gave the 20th Farewell Performance on their clinic. Makes it one more than Harry Lauder's record. But the boys were sold out long before curtain time, as usual. . . . It's a boy for the John Boles', 2/8/55. . . . A series of pictures taken by Romaine Waska during the meeting are to appear in the Spanish edition of Oral Hygiene. . . . Henry J. Mathews is now a celebrity, he appeared as guest dentist on a TV Dental Clinic program on Channel 7 on Tuesday, January 25. . . . The Stokoes and a group of friends are taking rhumba lessons. . . . Julius Dziubak experimenting with his new Cavitron. . . . Andy Potempa and Chuck Sinard proud possessors of new Cadillacs. . . . It's an Oldsmobile for Stanley Rozanski. . . . Our sincere sympathy to Eric R. Lindholm, whose father, Dr. Eric Lindholm, Sr., passed away February 10 in Ocean Springs, Miss. Many members will remember him well as he was very active in Englewood affairs before moving out of the state. In addition to Eric, he is survived by his wife, Ada. . . . A note from Waska warns that he expects to be addressed as Commodore from now on. He was conferred a commission at a special ceremony held at the Hilton on February 8th by A. E. Bonnell, president of the Oklahoma State Dental Society. He is now a Commodore in the Oklahoma Navy. Well, I'll be damned—that'll be a "dry run" unless he happens to have a St. Bernard dog with a flask or two handy, even so he'd have a hard time setting sail across the dry plains of Oklahoma.—M. F. Kostrubala, Assistant Branch Correspondent.

WEST SUBURBAN

At the last meeting of the West Suburban Study Club, the following new officers were voted into office: Pres., Earl Emery; Pres.-elect, George Fleming; Vice-pres., Bob Randolph; Sec., Don Jaeger; Treas., Francis Fierce; Librarian, Jim Ridlen. Also elected were four directors—Vernon Cultra, B. R. Jones, Russ Benedict, and Rolland Mathews. The past officers of the club were quite pleased to find that 63 men from the area had turned out for the lecture on cancer. A good deal of the credit goes to our past-Pres. Roy Sanden. He did a swell job for the club. . . . Harry Brown is proudly announcing the arrival of a baby boy at his household. . . . Al Kunch, I am told, is leaving for a vacation in Miami, Fla., and A. C. Carlson is at the present on a vacation in Mexico somewhere. . . . As to being in different places, we have Stan Tylman, Jr., who has just moved into a snazzy new office, of which he is justly proud I have been informed. . . . All of Bill Haller's friends were happy to hear that Mrs. Haller is now out of the hospital and well on the way to recovery. . . . Now that the Midwinter Meeting is over and things have settled down a bit we can again start to think of the branch and study club meetings. If more of the men in the area would come out to the meetings it would be most satisfying for everyone. It takes effort to get started; it is impossible to feel at home the first time you go to one, but you should come out and give it a chance to become habit forming. The more times you go, the more men you will know and enjoy seeing, and the more fun it will be to join the "boys."—Bob Randolph, Branch Correspondent.

praise the job done by the committee for the Ladies' Luncheon. Mrs. Berg and her committee had a sell-out by Monday noon and could have sold many more tickets. Those women that attended were very pleased and for those that didn't try to go or couldn't get tickets we have only this to say, "We told you so." Next year maybe you will get those tickets EARLY. We want to thank Mrs. Dundon for acting as the go-between for the committee so that we could relay some of the information to you about that affair. Those men that were on the Membership Committee sure enjoyed the fashion show, even if it was only watching the pretty gals go by on the way to dressing room, rrrrrllff. . . . It would be impossible to name those present at the Monday night session, but I would like to say that Wayne Fisher really looked good in his fish and tails (no tails). Robert Kreiner looked very relaxed remembering his tour of duty as our director from Kenwood-Hyde Park and Elmer Ebert was even more so since he had no responsibilities for the evening. For those of you who missed this meeting I can only say you missed a great deal. The results of the meeting showed how hard everyone worked. While every meeting is good let's all make the next one even better. . . . I have had a complaint, it has been suggested that I become Graham Davies' press agent; well, if more men would do (not what, but as much) as he does I would be able to write about you too. . . . Wayne Fisher's little party was very enjoyable. I, for one, would like to express my thanks to Mrs. Fisher as well because it was such a relaxing time. I suppose that all of you were tired, but what could be more relaxing than a cool glass in your hand and good company. . . . Both Mrs. Dundon and Mrs. Fisher were seen doing a lot of running around in this and that capacity and we know that it wasn't easy for them, but look at the results. Good, aren't they? . . . We heard some favorable remarks about Bob Pinkerton's Limited Attendance Clinic; nice going, Bob! . . . O. K. Johnson had a clinic on oral surgery as did Ben Gans, heard that they were excellent. . . . Jesse Carlton presented a clinic on dentures, I don't know who is left that hasn't heard Jesse talk on dentures, but they turn out just the same. Roy Eberle sure must have had a good table clinic because you couldn't get near the guy. P. L. Mathisen, R. M. Morange and Asher Sherow had good table clinics. Howard Shepard had a fine clinic on Dental Anomalies, I thought that they were just our patients. . . . We know that everyone did his best and that is the reason any meeting is a success. . . . I don't think that you will get this issue in time for our next meeting, but anyway we are having Dr. W. G. F. Schmidt who will talk on "Occlusal Equilibration Technique"—results and prognosis and some table clinics will follow his talk. At the following meeting our own Lester Boyd is to be the speaker and his subject is "The Psychology of Denture Presentation" and we can learn a lot from that. . . . Snow is bad and cold weather is bad, but when you put them together, well! I guess that we live right or something, as the weather for the meeting sure was swell and the next day or two were terrible. . . . I hope that everyone had a good time as well as learning something from the meeting. . . . Do you remember about a man being hurt by a TV? The latest report is that he has recovered nicely even though he looked a bit tired, and who didn't.—Warren H. Lutton, Branch Correspondent.
